

Homework 1 Assignment

The photo below shows me with my three twin brothers. Actually, it's a rather crude cut-and-paste job in which I've inserted four images of myself in front of Tower Hall. Only problem is that the scale is all wrong, that is, my size looks wrong relative to where I'm standing and relative to the size of the buildings and trees in the background.

Your assignment is to make a similar composition using a photo of yourself pasted four times onto the photo of Tower Hall (see the back of this page) but at the correct scale. Make sure that each of the four images is a different size and that in at least two of the images we can see both your head and feet. You can create the composition using a program such as Photoshop or just use scissors, glue, and a copy machine.

Extra Credit: Make a second composition showing yourself pasted four times in front of another spot on campus (such as MLK library or the Student Union).
